Chain (Isnaad)

This is an example of the chain of narration (lists all the teachers to Allah) which the compiler received and gives to his students once they have successfully reached a level of mastery.

Introduction

Throughout my years of teaching Qur'an and Arabic from kindergarten through the college level, it became apparent that there was a need for a consistent, well-designed curriculum to teach students how to recite the Qur'an. The compilation and publication of this work and its supplemental materials aims to fulfill that need. I would like to thank Allah (SWT) for giving me the opportunity to provide an edition for English-speaking children and adults.

With the help of Allah (swt) and the right educators, the students who successfully complete a program of study that follows the methodology used in this book are able to recite the Qur'an with the proper pronunciation and Tajweed in a short period of time. I have been teaching Quran and Arabic for over twenty years, and the methodology which this book follows has consistently produced excellent results and success in students of all ages and levels, whether it is a four-year old child, or an illiterate 60 year old man who wants to learn how to read the Quran with the correct Tajweed.

The book comes with several supplements and instructional tools including: a teacher's manual, CDs, cassette tapes, posters, flashcards, and user-friendly software. The teacher-training materials can be used in schools teaching Tajweed, Arabic, or Qur'anic studies. We highly recommend that the teachers complete the training outlined in the supplement to achieve the best results. This edition also provides an addendum of helpful materials, including a glossary of terms and a chart explaining the origin of articulation of the Arabic letters.

The Qur'anic words/texts have been hand-written by the renowned Damascene calligrapher, Uthman Taha, who also beautifully penned the internationally-distributed Mushaf al-Madinah. All the words contained in this book are from the 30th part of the Qur'an (Juz 'Ammah).

Please feel free to contact us about available teacher-training programs or with any questions, comments, or suggestions to improve this work.
